What's New in the Zoo Sounds?

Do you and your kids already know that a picture is worth a thousand words? How about a thousand animal sounds? Zoo Sounds lets you decide, as it transforms any picture into a sound. Why not start it right now? Zoo Sounds is an app for children aged between 6 and 16 years old. How does the app work? The app is very simple to use. Just give it a photo to work with, and let the app do the rest. It will extract the main elements of your picture, highlight each one, and turn them into sound snippets. Each recorded animal sound has a unique ID, so you can save the set of animal sounds you made, play them back later, create your own custom sounds, or share them with your friends. Why is this app special? There are a lot of apps that let you create a picture from sound, but they often lack nuance and meaning. Zoo Sounds lets you transform a picture into a sound without it being just a mean visual. It works on any photo, both of people and animals. The end result is a unique piece of art that you or your kids can enjoy for years to come. How does the app improve education? Animals are among the most important creatures in our lives, and they provide a key insight into many aspects of the human experience. How do they feel? How do they react? What do they say? In a weird way, this is part of what Zoo Sounds does. It lets you add a visual accent to your favorite animal pictures, and helps you see your world and the world around you in a whole new light. With Zoo Sounds, you get to learn about animals before you see them, and you can share your thoughts and knowledge with your kids. What's in the app? Zoo Sounds lets you collect your favorite animal pictures, and then add sounds to them. You can create multiple sound sets with multiple animal pictures, and save them for later use. You can share your sets with your friends, and create your own custom sounds. You can also discover the animals that have their own sound by using a simple search tool. It's really that simple.
