JAKARTA (ANTARA) - A request by the government of Indonesia to finalise an agreement with Panasonic Corp on the sale of air purifying tablets Biocube here was held back over the weekend as the Indonesian customs office sent the documents back to the Ministry of Trade. "The request for us to finalise the agreement with Panasonic on the sale of Biocube was held back as the Indonesian customs office sent the documents back to the Ministry of Trade," Neneng Sabri, a vice-president of Panasonic Indonesia told Antara over the weekend. To use the membrane for this device, the manufacturer came up with a method of mixing the particles of air purifying material into the polymer resin for manufacture. The membrane can be manufactured on a large scale for Indonesia. "If the deal for the production of Biocube with Panasonic is successful, then we will get approximately US$500 million from the transaction," said Neneng. In the past two years, Panasonic has filed an application for the sale of Biocube tablets to the government, according to Neneng. "If the deal with Panasonic is finalised, the import of Biocube tablets to Indonesia will start within this year," said Neneng.

North Carolina says it's investigating possible federal crimes over fake reports that an 11-year-old girl was shot in Chicago. Law enforcement officials allege it was a hoax. It's not the first time a false shooting has been reported in Chicago. The alleged hoax in the aftermath of the fatal shooting of a 19-year-old man and a 10-year-old boy was caused by a collective of people who decided to take matters into their own hands and went on the streets and made fraudulent 911 calls, CBS Chicago reported. The young child reportedly received a minor injury during the incident., must now learn that the suffering of all her people is His cross to bear, and the god-fearing, taught-of-the-gods must now learn that God's work is done by the blood of the cross of the Son of God. Horse Sense Lessons from My Headphone Circuit I learned more about electronics and circuits while making an audiophile headphone than most people know in a lifetime.
My first headphone was a Blackstar ECM-1, and my second a pair of Shure SM57s. I was never able to really measure the high-frequency performance because the measurements of the SM57 cans were equally variable. The world's best headphone is a Cirrus Logic CSM50, but I doubt that word of my triumphant discovery will ever reach its ears. I had to give the SM57s away to a friend who also didn't know about the headphone circuit, but it's back in the air and hanging out in the mp3 player of someone else. In these days, there seems to be a craze for audiophile gear. There is a surprising number of eBay and Half-Price books about expensive, proprietary, scientific-grade audio components.

With all this market share being fought for, it's probably not a bad idea to know what you're doing. I bought the Celestion SE 1855 2x12-inch speakers from Sennheiser, knowing that they were designed specifically for headphones. I also use them for the guitar, though I didn't realize their design was geared to match the human ear for compatibility. I realize I sound like an ignorant barbarian, but the truth is I was at my wits' end. I'd heard the ES 10/2 turntable, had a manual volume control for my guitar, and wanted to hear what higher fidelity would offer. When I turned on the heads with my poor old amplified guitar, I noticed what sounded like a little "v
