No More Screensaver! Prevent Screensaver prevents your laptop's screen from switching off, and makes your laptop work more efficient. This is a great way to turn off your screensaver while still allowing your laptop to get the power savings that you've always wanted. INSTALLATION: Download and unzip the.zip file. HOW TO USE: Start your account and program your mouse to the following coordinates: (516, -1). A window will open with your mouse cursor. Close the window. Every 60 seconds, the window will open again, simulating a mouse movement. User: wordwait Date: 08/06/2008 Other: I've downloaded this, and I tried it, and it works, I tell you! And nobody knows how to program a mouse. Rating: Your rating has been submitted, please tell us how we can improve. You can delete my posting, you cannot delete my words, I speak for humanity. And anyway, this forum is not the place to say something like that, the way you would for your mom. Anyway you should be thankful to every body who help you.Q: Running a hidden service in the middle of the night? I'm building a custom P2P bitcoin currency - that is, it's not centralized in any way, and relies on other peers to do network-level operations for routing. Part of the process involves maintaining a shadow public ledger. When generating the shadow public ledger, you need to know what are the differences between the peer's proposed change to the ledger, compared to the current ledger. To do this, we scan all blocks in the chain, and check if there is a new address which has appeared in the chain and hasn't appeared in the previous scan. The problem is that, in order to effectively know that this address is no longer valid, you need a view of the public ledger between the peer and all other peers, which means you're dependent on the other peers to provide you with that view of the public ledger. Basically, we're asking the other peers to keep a copy of the current public ledger 24/7 for the whole network. Right now, the only way that we can make this work is to have 24/7 running of a small bitcoin daemon that acts as a relay, and automatically bridges peers to the network. The problem is that in
