That's what Lakeland School District's youth hockey camp hopes to encourage in more than 400 children attending its first youth hockey camp this summer. The camp is scheduled for Aug. 20-22 and will be held in a renovated 700-square-foot local-government building that was formerly part of the Manatee Education Center. "This has been a long time coming for the district and for the hockey association," said Linda O'Connor, president of the Miami-Dade Hockey Association. "We're excited for the kids. We're very excited for the (Manatee Education Center) staff." The program includes: A summer hockey skills camp held Monday-Wednesday for students in grades kindergarten-12. A hockey skills clinic for beginners on Thursday. The opportunity for students in grades 6-12 to skate on Friday and practice with the Manatee forwards and defensemen during Saturday's home game against Palm Beach Lakes. The cost for the camp is $50 per player. The fee includes three ice times and three meals per day. Participants do not need to be current members of the youth hockey association to attend the camp, but must be registered with the program. O'Connor said there were approximately 30 children who showed interest in playing hockey when the camp was in the planning stages last fall. She said the number has increased to nearly 400. "We have asked the school district to build a little bit of space so the kids will have a little bit of room to grow their skills," O'Connor said. "We have been asking the Manatee administration to provide a couple of rooms for coaching clinics." O'Connor said she is excited for this summer because kids will gain the fundamentals of the game while learning about team chemistry and sportsmanship.
