And in case you didn't already know, it is now officially time for (read: officially accepted to) the big chop before summer so. It's time to get those fast growing hair out of the way so it will stay that way all summer, or at least until you're bald and everybody can throw tomatoes at you! ? This also happens to be the one and only time of year for proper hair drying! So if you haven't thought about your hair's style before, give it some thought. Get a good grip on the back of your head (or a styling product so you won't make yourself sore), and if you have a wet hair day, see how long your hair can take it without getting all "extremely tangled and frizzy". Then do the same on the other side as your hair will naturally dry better on the one that is shaved off.
