samvendor is a third-party registration platform what charges to complete a full service system for award management (sam) registration. our service includes a dedicated case manager to physically process the sam paperwork on the clients behalf. unlike other software, sam broadcaster pro offers a standard radio waveform display on the soundcard and spectrum analyzer. all audio is processed by the processor, including stereo and surround sound. you can connect up to 64 audio/video devices and process them as you would a single device. the processor also has a built-in auto-gain control. it is ideal for general use, such as in your home or studio. it also makes a great companion for a mobile device, such as a smartphone or tablet. you can listen to music, fm radio, internet radio, and more. the all new sam broadcaster pro v2.0.0 office full version includes an integrated sound processor with separate left and right audio channels. this means sam broadcaster pro allows you to process both channels of audio separately. you can use this feature to increase the sound of the left channel, reduce the sound of the right channel, or even allow the sound to be processed as stereo or surround sound. the two other options we tested were streamtunes, and thearadio. both of these apps have a lot of the same features, but streamtunes is a bit more flexible, and allows you to access a much larger catalog of music tracks. thearadio is probably the easiest to use of the bunch. both of these apps are free, and you'll be able to import music tracks into your station from just about any source you can think of. samcast pro full mac formats include aac, aacplus, aac-hc, mp3, mp3pro, ogg, and windows media.
