What's New In?

Whenever you are building a website for a client, or you need to keep track of the progress, time tracking is very important. It allows you to better plan your work, as well as helps you deliver your projects in time. Compuccino Time Track will allow you to easily keep track of time spent on various projects by several clients. The time for each activity can be measured, no matter if you are on- or offline. The ability to run multiple timers caters for a lot of flexibility thus making it possible to switch between tasks easily. The recorded times can be submitted to project management software Basecamp with a single click. Key Features

- In-App Timer In-app timer is very handy and it can be used for work time management, for example, time tracking with Compuccino Time Track. Just go to the timer section, click on Start button and set the time you want to spend on a project.
- Customize Timer You can also customize your timer interface, including font, font size, and color. Also, you can set timer to stop, once you reached the time limit you set.
- Automatic Backup Your data is backed up on a server daily. You can also choose to backup your data to the server via iTunes when it is out of the App Store.
- Easily and Quickly Switch between Clients You can easily switch between projects for each client, no matter if you are online or offline.
- Fast to the point The time is shown as your speed!

Screenshots Customer Reviews I am always forgetting to do something! by Iain Haydar I have been using it for a few days now, the free version is good and easy to use, however with version 2 you can customize everything and it is much more complete. I had customised the time units to match my usage of time and now my clients can easily change the units to their usage of time. I used to forget to add and add and add tasks. I added the reminder to find and add the next task. I also added the reminder to send tasks to Basecamp. What I love most about this app is that it allows me to completely and easily switch between clients and projects. I used to spend half the day switching between clients and projects. I love the fact that you can even set the number of seconds that it will take to send a task to Basecamp. I can set it to zero seconds. I love this app and highly recommend it. Expensive by Ian I have to say I really am not impressed with this app, I already use the free version and I had been using the iPhone version. I thought this would be like the iPad version but it's just as expensive as the iPhone version! Unless I'm doing
